Gasoline Launch Destroyed.

As the result of an explosion which occurred on the launch of the Chippewa Club Monday night about nine o'clock, the craft was totally destroyed and the occupants, Ben Downey, Mitchell Jackson and Douglas Thomas, narrowly escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred several hundred yards from the mouth of Kennedy's Creek and in the deepest part of Stoner Creek. The party was enroute to Kennedy's Creek where they intended to fish.

When they were preparing to make the landing at the mouth of the smaller stream there was a sudden explosion and the entire boat was enveloped in flames. It is evident the gasoline tank had sprung a leak and its contents poured into the bottom of the boat.

When the explosion occurred the men leaped into the stream and swam to the shore. Fortunately none of them sustained any injury. The wood-work of the boat was burned from the steel ribs, which were badly warped by the intense heat. The engine can probably be repaired and again put in running order.

The launch, which was one of the latest patterns, was valued at $350 and had only been in commission about a year. It was fifteen feet in length and had a carrying capacity of fifteen persons.

Caalise Suffers Heavy Fire Loss

Fire, which started in the storage warehouse of Frank Taylor in Carlisle Tuesday morning burned out three blocks along Market and Railroad streets, causing a loss that is estimated between $150,000 and $200,000, partly covered by insurance.

Before the fire-fighting apparatus of that city could be brought into commission the flames had gained considerable headway and threatened the entire business section of town. For three hours the firemen of three cities battled with the fierce flames before they were finally under control.

The property destroyed was the warehouse of Booth Carew, in which was stored one hundred and fifty thousand pounds of tobacco the property of William Crow, and Reed Bros., the coal yard of Darnell Co., warehouse of Mrs. George Judy, Stuart & Ham's coal yard, plant of the Blue Grass Poultry Co., L. & N. passenger and freight depots, billiard parlors of Mayor Frye, grocery of Conway Kennedy. The big Burley Tobacco Warehouse and the warehouse of Davis & Barrett were consumed. Six residences on Maple street were also burned.

When the fire was raging fiercely Paris was appealed to for assistance and the engine with five hundred feet of hose was sent to the relief of the stricken city. Nine men accompanied the apparatus from the local department which was in charge of Henry McGinley.

The run to Carlisle was made in twenty-five minutes and in about an hour after the special train departed from this city the department was doing very effective work in checking the spread of the conflagration. The Millersburg engine was also rushed to the scene and rendered valuable assistance.

SPORTING NEWS LETTER

By C. H. ZUBER.

Cincinnati, May 18, 1911.—None of the major league base ball clubs are being threatened with arrest for obtaining money under false pretenses these days because of any skimpiness in hitting. If there is any complaint being made by spectators it is on the score of too much hitting, which makes cold supper and strong excuses with mother quite the fad. It's quite common for teams to run into double figures with their scores, and on several occasions the count has reached twenty. Yet despite this heavy swatting, the pitchers declare that they have not gone back in this work, but that the live-ball ball and a general brightening of the batting eyes of the players is responsible for this bountiful crop of bungles which is being harvested from day to day. No matter what the cause, the followers of the game are having their long experienced wish that there be more hitting in the game, and the chances are that before long a strong supplication will go up for closer scores than a majority of those by which games are now being decided.

There seems to be no immediate prospect of a change in the leadership of either the National or the American leagues. The Phillies, with couple more weeks on their home grounds, do not appear to be ready to surrender their place to any of the more highly touted pennant winners, while in the American League Detroit has such a bunch nothing short of a calamity can dislodge them for many weeks. While the Western teams are doing well in the East, so far as the National League is concerned, none of them are setting the world on fire. The Reds started off gloriously in Boston, but did not fare so well in Philadelphia. They are down on the cards for seven games in Brooklyn and New York before returning home, and hope to gain some ground during those series. The Reds' next appearance on the home list will be on Sunday, May 28, when they stop off for a game with the Pirates, enroute from Pittsburg to St. Louis.

Recent performances by his pitchers have convinced Manager Griffith, of the Reds, that his team still is somewhat shy in the hurling department, and so, in order to obviate this handicap as much as possible, the Cincy leader is doing much scouting and negotiating for twirling material. His best coup in that direction was when he secured Frank Smith from the Boston Americans. This fellow is as big as a house, with all sorts of speed, curves and endurance, and loves work. He is not yet in the best of condition, but when he does get going right for the Reds he'll prove a veritable whale. It is quite likely that Griff will endeavor to have Smith's turn to twirl come around on the first Sunday the Reds play at home in order that local fans may see what has been done to strengthen the team.

The wild scramble to discover a "white man's hope" to take the measure of Jack Johnson continues. Judging by the pictures of the Carl Morris-Mike Schreck fight, there's little hope in Morris for the job of putting "Lil Atta" into the arms of the pugilistic Morpheus, and that feeling is strengthened by the fact that Morris probably will take on Jim Flynn, the fighting fireman, for an early battle, and that there are those who say that this second rater can send Morris to Slumberland. Over in England our British cousins are banking some on Bomber Wells to turn the trick eventually. However, as Wells isn't growing any younger as Johnson ages, the prospects of an early surrender on the part of the sable slugger to Wells or anyone else are not bright.

Efforts are to be put forth to restore the social prestige of horse racing at Latonia during the coming spring meeting, which opens on June 10. This is as it should be, as there is no more splendid sport than horse racing, when properly conducted. Along with the desire to restore the social standing of the sport, efforts should be made to revive other features that formerly distinguished it—honest betting, honest racing and honest handling of the horses. When this condition again obtains it will not be necessary for State Legislatures to enact laws in order that willing but unwise bettors may not lose all going against the ponies.

That the best talent for graduation into fast company is not always found in the higher class of minor leagues, is evidenced by the experience of the Philadelphia Nationals in regard to their big right-hand twirler, Alexander. Here is a chap who didn't shine with dazzling brilliancy in the New York State League last year, yet he is the pitching sensation of the National League today. Alexander is a farmer boy from Kansas, and seems to have everything that a high class pitcher should have, and then some. Matthewson, during his first year in the National League pitched no better than Alexander. Watch him.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

DRUGS OF ANTIQUITY.

The Doses That Mankind Swallowed
Thousands of Years Ago.

It is admitted that the oldest medical work known is the Ebers papyrus, discovered by Georg Ebers in his journey to Egypt in 1872-3. It is a scroll twenty yards long and a foot wide and has been studied and translated by Von Oegele and reviewed by Von Lippmann. It was written about 1550 B. C., though some of the material of which it is a compilation dates back to about 3700 B. C.

The medical substances mentioned include copper—once more costly than gold and silver—lead, iron, antimony, carbon, sulphur, salt, soda, gypsum and other minerals; milk, fats from many animals, wax, and the horn, blood and other portions of domestic and wild animals; castor and other oils, honey, raisins, grapes, figs, dates, wine, beer, linen, flax, lanolin, papyrus, numerous resins, caraway, fennel, dill, melilot, watercress, peppermint, coriander, lettuce, endive, absinth, pomegranate, calamus, aloes, safflower, crocus, indigo, henbane, mandrake, opium and other plants and vegetable products.

In preparing drugs solids were grated or powdered in a stone mortar. There were many processes of treating them, such as roasting, baking, pressing, steeping, warming, boiling in various substances, macerating with lye, evaporating and fermenting with yeast. Liquids were filtered and clarified. Some recipes contain two or three ingredients, but others have as many as thirty-seven materials.

GIBRALTAR.

The "Key of the Mediterranean" Has Had a Stormy History.

England has been in possession of the rocky promontory of Gibraltar since 1704. From that time to this it has been a crown colony under the administration of a governor. By reason of its important strategical position it is called the "key of the Mediterranean."

Gibraltar has had a stormy history. In 711 the rock was taken by the Arab chief Tarik, who called it Jebel-al-Tarik (Hill of Tarik) and built a fortress on the promontory. Part of these ruins are still extant. In 1309 it was taken by the Castilians, only to be recaptured by the Moors in 1333. It was held by them until 1462. Following the taking and sacking of Gibraltar in 1540 by Barbarossa, extensive military works were built there by order of Charles V.

In 1704 the promontory was captured by a combined force under Sir George Rooke and the Prince of Hesse-Darmstadt, fighting for the Archduke Charles of Austria. The moment it fell into their hands the British admiral threw off the alliance with the Austrians and took complete possession of the works.

British possession since that time has been unbroken, although it was under a Spanish siege for nearly three years and eight months, beginning in 1779. Twice the garrison was on the point of falling because of the starvation of its defenders.

Right on the Job.

At the time Dewey captured the Philippine Islands there was only one lighthouse in operation in the Philippine waters—that on Cape Melville, Balabac Island, south of the island of Palawan and marking the entrance between the China sea and the Sulu sea. As is the custom in time of war, the Spanish authorities had ordered all lighthouses to have their lights extinguished when it was discovered that an attack on Manila was threatened by the American navy. It appears that this order was carried out at all other places except at the lighthouse mentioned above, where the order was never received. The keeper of this light kept his light burning up to June 30, 1899, without assistance, and was paid for his services from May 1, 1899, to that date by the Philippine government.—Philippines Monthly.

Fourierism.

Fourierism was a social system founded by Charles Fourier, born in France 1772, died 1837. Fourier advocated co-operative industrialism, coupled with the idea that society should be organized into "phalanxes." The phalanx was to number about 1,600 persons, who were to live in a common building, with a certain portion of soil for cultivation. The staple industry was to be agriculture, but the various groups might devote themselves to such as were best suited to their tastes. Several attempts were made to carry out Fourier's theories, but the result in each case was failure.—New York American.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with us.

Governor Gray and Meridian to Meet.

Turf lovers from all over the world will be interested in the announcement made late Wednesday afternoon to the effect that Meridian and Governor Gray would meet in a special race on Thursday, June 1, to decide the superiority between these two thoroughbreds. Meridian, as is well known, won the recent Kentucky Derby, while Governor Gray ran second, and since then it has been a very serious question with those concerned as to which is the better horse.

Both owners are willing to test the merits of their charges, and when the matter came up little time was wasted in arranging the details. In fact, both men were eager for a meeting. For various delicate reasons the turf-loving public seems to be at sea as to which is the better animal over a distance of ground.

Buys Cattle.

At Mt. Sterling Court Monday W. J. Clark, of Paris, bought thirty-one 650-pound yearlings at from 5 to 5 1/4 cents, and Wm. Whaley bought thirty cows and heifers of various parties at 4 to 4 1/2 cents.

Cut Worms Plentiful.

Cut worms are plentiful this year in Woodford and are just waiting for the corn crop to begin coming up. Many farmers advise holding off a while yet before planting corn.

Poor Accommodations.

Lexington has been busy with her hammer knocking Paris whenever an opportunity presented itself and particularly when the Republican Convention was held in this city a few weeks ago. The Lexington papers referred more than once to the poor accommodations to be had in this city especially so on an occasion which brought into the town a large number of persons.

The conclave which was held in Lexington Tuesday and Wednesday clearly demonstrated that Lexington has no accommodations of which to boast.

In Lexington Wednesday night it could be heard discussed on almost every side this subject. A large number of Knights from adjoining towns were unable to secure rooms and were compelled to return to their homes.

That Paris was chosen as the next meeting place for Grand Commandery gives evidence that some still remember the hospitable manner in which they were entertained here five years ago and Paris will outdo herself when the Knights assemble here next May.

Residences Sold at Auction.

The two brick residences of Mr. George W. Wilder on High street were sold at public auction yesterday afternoon. Mr. Harry Stamer purchased the property at the corner of High and Thirteenth streets for $3,575, while the residence adjoining was knocked off to Capt. J. W. Taylor, for $3,700. The vacant lot at the corner of Main and Thirteenth was bid to $1,075 and withdrawn.

Is This "Our" Wilkinson?

At Lancaster, Ohio, Wednesday, the Lancaster Club of the Ohio State League, was defeated by the Hamilton Club. The Lancaster team attributed their defeat to a decision of Uapire Wilkinson, who called a line of the third bag a foul. His "umps" was roughly handled after the game. This is perhaps the same Wilkinson that held the indicator in the Blue Grass League last season, and figured prominently in several near riots on the ball grounds over the circuit.

The Contested Game.

The Maysville Independent says: "President Ussery of the league has received from Umpire Ronan and President Bacon of the Paris Club signed statements which constitute the testimony in the contested game of Paris vs. Maysville.

"These statements are now in the hands of the Maysville Club Officers and today they will examine and return to the League President for his decision.

"The Bourbon News seems confident that President Ussery will decide in favor of Paris."

The News has never expressed any confidence in the result of the decision of President Ussery, but from the facts presented to us as regards the play which occasioned the protest, we fail to see how it could go any other way than be decided in favor of Paris. Umpire Ronan said while in the city last week it was very clear to him that he had made a mistake. For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the rules we quote a portion of Rule 59, which in our judgment covers the case, and which is as follows:

"One run shall be scored every time a base runner, after having legally touched the first three bases, shall legally touch the home base before three men are put out; provided, however, that if he reach home on or during a play in which the third man be forced out or be put out before reaching first base, a run shall not count."

WEDNESDAY.

In a snappy contest at White Park Wednesday afternoon Paris administered a coat of white wash to the River Men, and during the nine sessions accumulated six tallies.

Shears, who was a victim of the Maysville team in the opening game of the season, avenged his first defeat, and while the men from Mason had the stations clogged on several occasions, and many times were in a position to score, but Shears tightened up and the necessary hit was not forthcoming.

On the other hand Friedly was touched up for a dozen bingles, many of them counting in the run-getting. In the second inning Kuhlman hit out a three-bagger, scoring Barnett. The score:

Paris 0 2 0 1 0 0 3 0 x-6 Maysville 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 Batteries—Paris, Shears and Mayer; Maysville, Friedley and Holder. Hits—Paris 12, Maysville, 7. Errors—Paris 2, Maysville 2. Diaz to Sign June 1.

The Mexican revolutionists gained a complete victory Wednesday when it was announced from Mexico City that President Diaz and Vice President Corral would resign their offices before June 1 and Francisco Ue la Barra would be made president ad interim and Francisco I. Madero, Jr., President of the Provisional Mexican Government, would be his chief advisor. These two are to form a new cabinet. A general armistice has been declared throughout Mexico and peace is expected to follow. A general presidential election will be called within six months.

RICHMOND HERE FOR TWO GAMES.

The Pioneers will be the attraction at White Park this afternoon and also on Saturday. The Richmond team will make an effort to avenge themselves for the defeat of last Saturday which was lost after one of the hardest struggles ever seen on the local lot. The Pioneers are putting up a snappy game early in the season and the Bourbonites have a task before them to take the two contests today and tomorrow.

Drowned Men Come to Life.

A telephone message from Talbott Station was received here Monday night stating two suits of clothes had been found on the creek bank, and that no one could be found in the neighborhood it was evident the owners of the clothes had been drowned.

The message was received at Police Headquarters and early Tuesday morning Coroner Rudolph Davis went to Talbott in company with Patrolman Fred Link to make an investigation. After dragging Stoner Creek for two miles without finding anything that looked like a corpse it was decided to take a look at the clothing, thinking perhaps they would disclose something which would identify owners.

A search for the clothing was made but they had disappeared. The "drowned men" had evidently come to life and securing their clothes had made a "skidoo." It is the belief that the owners of the clothes had been swimming in the creek and were come upon suddenly by the parties who reported the find of the clothes. Being watched all night they were compelled to wait their chance to make an escape without detection.

Paris Gets Conclave Next Year.

The Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar of Kentucky will hold the conclave of 1912 in Paris. This was decided yesterday afternoon at the business session of the Grand Commandery in Lexington.

The selection of Paris as the next place for holding the next annual conclave is a compliment to the city in which the Grand Commandery met in May 1906. On this occasion the town was turned over to the plumed army and the hospitality of the people of Paris knew no limit.

The annual conclave of the Knights Templar was held in Lexington on Wednesday and Thursday. The event was one of the most notable in the history of that city and thousands of visitors attended.

Almost every building in the city was arranged in holiday attire and fully twenty-five thousand persons witnessed the parade which was the feature of the opening day.

Coeur de Lion Commandery of this city with sixty Knights and headed by the Paris Military Band made a beautiful appearance.

There were more than one thousand Knights in the parade with fifteen bands of music.

Yesterday was devoted to the business session of the Grand Commandery and the festivities came to a close last night with a reception and grand ball by Webb Commandery No. 2 of Lexington in honor of the visiting Commanderies. Oleika Temple of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine also entertained the visiting Knights with a reception last night.

PRIDE ON BOTH SIDES.

A Story of the Duke of Somerset and the Artist Seymour.

We have all heard of the "proud" Duke of Somerset, but we do not all know of the occasion on which his pride had a fall. The story is told in "The Glenbervie Journals."

It seems that the duchess had sent for Seymour, a celebrated painter of horses, to make the portrait of a racehorse at Petworth. Seymour during his stay used to dine in the steward's room, but one day the duke was so pleased with the picture as it advanced that he desired that he would dine at his table.

At dinner Seymour, who probably had not been expected to mix in the conversation, took occasion to say that he believed he had the honor to be related to his grace. This gave such offense that he was either sent away or put so much out of humor as to go away from Petworth without finishing the picture.

Afterward the duke's pride gave way to the desire he had of possessing a good portrait of his favorite horse, and he ordered his steward to write to Seymour and engage him to return to finish his work at Petworth.

Seymour directed his reply to the duke himself in these words: "Your pride would not allow that I am of your family. To convince you that I am, your picture shall remain as it is; for, by —, I won't come!"

THE GULF STREAM.

No Material Change in Its Course in Modern Times.

Much has been said in recent years in regard to the changing route of the gulf stream. Indeed, the character of this steady, consistent and unwavering body was getting so maligned that the government looked into the matter, with the result that this mysterious current of the ocean was entirely vindicated. Experts declare that there is no change in the course nor has there been for many years.

No other physical feature of the ocean is subject to more persistent misinterpretation than is the gulf stream. All vagaries of climate are laid to its charge. It is a pet theory of many that the temperature of Europe is greatly affected by it, but this idea is held by high authorities to be erroneous. It is not as extensive as is commonly thought. Practically starting at the Florida strait, where its volume is made up by the union of currents, it ceases to be a true current by the time it reaches the southern limit of the Grand banks, where it becomes surface drift, governed by the winds.

The government experts aver that there has been absolutely no material change in the gulf stream's course in modern times.—New York Press.

Young America's English.

"What is the most incorrect sentence any of your children ever get off?" asked a Glenwood schoolteacher recently at the Schoolmen's club.

"One of mine got this off not long ago," responded a young man who teaches at the Robert Morris school: "It ain't his like, but, you'n."

"My best," said another teacher, "ran something like this: 'Rare roast beef is meat what there ain't none what's underdunner.'

The best one of the afternoon was furnished by a Germantown teacher. "Here is one," he said, "which has the old classic, 'He seen his duty and done it noble' beaten forty ways: 'Lewtinent Grant hearn the enemy in his bed, but he stuck up on him and killed him without known' who, where or what he was.'—St. Paul Dispatch.

Young Eagles.

An eagle lives from 80 to 100 years. The young birds are driven forth by their savage parents to provide for themselves as soon as they are able to fly. No training is given them by the old bird. That is left to their wild instincts, which hunger and necessity develop. There is no "going back to the old home" for the young eagles. The mother bird tears up every vestige of the nest, and if they emit plaintive shrieks the old birds dart at them and push them off the crags or rocks and thereby make them take to their wings. It takes three years for a young eagle to gain its complete plumage and strength.

The Variable Star Algol.

The most noted variable star in the universe is Algol, which changes its brilliancy so remarkably that it was noted by shepherds of Mesopotamia many years ago. It is now known that Algol is not one star, but a double one. There are two suns revolving around a common center, one of which is blazing like our sun and the other is dead like the earth. Thus when the dark sun partially intervenes between us and the burning Algol much light is cut off.

Reason For Her Opinion.

"Do you think genius and insanity always go together?"

"Oh, no. I am convinced that my husband is half crazy most of the time, but I've never seen him give the faintest gleam of genius."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Hit Hard.

"I flatter myself I've made a hit with this song. Er-by the way, who was the gentleman that was moved to tears and went out?"

"That was the composer."—London Tatler.

BLACK HAWK CORN PLANTER No. 15 VARIABLE DROP!

Light Draft, Simple Construction.

Wur special new feature in this planter is that we not only get an accurate number of kernels in each hill, but we get the number of kernels in each hill which the fertility of the soil is able to bring to perfect maturity.

No field was ever known to contain exact uniformity in strength of soil. It is just as unreasonable to expect the same results from thin, weak soil, in comparison with deep, rich soil, as it is to expect a child to do a man's work. This is a reasonable proposition, particularly to the scientific corn grower.

More money is being spent and greater efforts along educational lines are being made to-day than ever before in the world's history to increase the yield of corn per acre. We contributed a very large effort to accomplish these results with our Black Hawk single kernel edge drop, and we now add to our combination the No. 15 Variable Drop, with which the drop can be changed to 2, 3 or 4 kernels in a hill without stopping the team; or can drill 7 1-2, 10 or 15 inches, 9, 12 or 17 1-2 inches, or 11, 14 or 22 inches apart, without stopping the team.

Hand Drop Attachment with each Planter, has Foot Drop also. Will plant last two rows and wind wire at same time. Come and let us show you the best planter made.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY
It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

My Meeting With Lady Macbeth.
The following composition is the work of E. Paul Brannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brannon, a member of the Sophomore class of the Paris High School:

During my stay in Scotland, as a reporter for Tribune, I received a cablegram from the editor to write up the feudal castles in the Highlands. Though I was having a good time with the pretty lasses on the seashore, I had to comply at once or lose my meal ticket. So, hiring a jog-cart driven by a burly old clansman, called Sandy, I set out.

After many miles of rough riding, I saw a pile of old ruins behind a thick wood of evergreens, and leaving Sandy in the cart I made my way toward it. Around the castle grew a wild hedge, through which I forced my way with the aid of a pocket-knife.

The gray walls were overgrown with ivy and only the left battlement was still preserved. Crossing the broad, dry moat, I climbed the steps and entered the tower.

By the light of a match I walked across the hall, clutching my revolver tightly in my hand. On the left side a heavy door swung on its rusty hinges. I passed through it and started up the winding stone stair-case, which arose before me. To my surprise lighted candles at intervals on the walls gave out blue, sickly rays.

Directly at the top of the steps was a door which I opened. As I stepped in a woman in white garments entered from a door in the rear. I quickly jumped behind a partition in the wall and watched her move across the room, with snake-like glide, clasping to her bosom a long knife which gleamed in the light of the candle in her hand.

She placed the candle on a ledge in the wall and, after concealing the dagger in the folds of her dress, began to dampen her hands on the green, rosy wall. I could see her rubbing them vigorously.

"Out, damned spot! Out, I say," she moaned.

Where had I heard those words before? In my interest I stepped out into the room and she saw me. Gleefully, she ran toward me crying: "Macbeth, Macbeth; no more of that my lord; you mar all with this starting."

My blood curdled. I turned to leave the room, when she caught me by the arm, saying: "Infirm of purpose, give me the daggers; give them to me, Lady Macbeth, Queen of Scotland and thy dearest partner of greatness."

She grabbed me. The pale face with its wild blood-shot eyes, which glared into mine, made me reel with horror.

A loud noise made her loosen her hold on my throat and two uniformed men rushed in and handcuffed her.

As they led her from the room one of them said to me, "My God man, but you had a close shave. We've been hunting for her eight hours. She's the most dangerous inmate of the asylum. Went looney over over-study of Shakespeare, when she was an actress."

When I reached the cart I looked up at the stars and muttered a prayer to God for my preservation. Then wakening Sandy, we drove to the village inn.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

—Mr. Mat. S. Cohen, of Lexington, Ky., has sent the good young saddle stallion, Bourbon Star, to Hook & Woods, Paris, Mo., to be trained for the fall shows.

—W. G. McClintock shipped to the Cincinnati market last week four car loads of hogs weighing from 175 to 200 pounds, for which he paid 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 cents per pound.

—J. Miller Ward sold last week to W. G. McClintock a carload of 22 pound hogs at 5 1/2 cents per pound. There were one hundred head in the lot and they were shipped to the Cincinnati market Saturday.

—Many mules are being shipped to Decatur, Ala., from Tennessee and Kentucky and are being sold to the farmers in the Decatur and vicinity at good prices. Almost every week a carload of mules arrive and are soon disposed of in the markets of the Decaturs.

—Despairing of being able to profitably raise tobacco this year because of the low prices of the weed, the high cost of labor and the scarcity of tobacco plants, many Nicholas county farmers are preparing to put in one of the biggest crop of watermelons ever planted in that county.

—Total receipts of live stock on the Chicago market for the week ending May 6, were 48,800 cattle, 153,900 hogs, and 884,500 sheep. The week's receipts compared with the previous week, in round numbers increased 800 cattle, 7,400 hogs, and 11,900 sheep. Compared with the corresponding week a year ago, cattle increased 4,300, hogs 65,000 and sheep 29,500.

—Georgetown Court.—The Georgetown Times says: "Monday was a slim court day both in attendance and the amount of live stock on the market, due largely to the fact that it was a busy time with farmers. Auctioneer Ben B. Peak sold eight common cattle, of about 450 pounds weight, for Frank Hall at $18.55 per head; eighteen yearlings for H. H. Collins at $35.75 per head and 13 short yearlings for Rev. W. B. Gwynne at $30.50."

—That the smallest acreage of tobacco ever put out in Nicholas county in modern years will be transplanted by Nicholas county growers this year is now said to be evident. Reports from various portions of the county are to the effect that tobacco plants are doing no good and that whole neighborhoods have no plants. The farmers are also hindered with being some two months behind with their work and have been unable to prepare the ground for transplanting.

FREE FOR STOMACH AND BOWELS

We are in receipt of letters from Mrs. Eva Gaskins, 304 Madison St., Topeka, Kan., and Mr. P. H. Gavell, Wagoner, Okla., as well as many others, telling about the wonderful results they have secured in the cure of their stomach and liver troubles by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint.

This remedy, as all readers doubtless know, has been before the public for a generation and is now being more extensively used than any other remedy for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. According to reliable testimony, it seems to be a very quick and lasting cure for constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar disorders. It is a liquid with tonic effect, and so mild and gentle in action that a child as well as a grown person can take it, in fact, it has no equal for children, women and old people.

It arouses the flow of gastric juice, and by a peculiar action trains the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with. A free sample bottle can be had for trial by sending your address to the doctor, or for in this way Mrs. Gaskins, Mr. Gavell and many others first learned of the cure. Later, when satisfied it is the remedy you need, do as others are doing and buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

12 st LOUISE CRAY, Agent.

Miss Nannie Gill, of Maysville, arrived Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Aaron McConnell.

Rev. R. S. Sanders and Messrs. J. T. Purdy and A. T. Moffett left Tuesday for the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church which is now in session at Louisville.

Our people were very much affected by the disastrous fire at Carlisle Tuesday morning, we having suffered several similar experiences and know how to sympathize and appreciate the misfortunes of such suffering. From the time the word reached here that the Millersburg fire engine was needed to assist in saving the city it required just twenty-three minutes to get the engine out load it and start it on the way. Nearly ten minutes of that time was taken up in waiting for the freight train to set a flat car on which to load the apparatus.

Mrs. Kate Williams, of Irvine, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Louise Clarke, Monday and Tuesday.

The many friends of Mrs. William Bedford residing in Lexington will learn with sorrow that she underwent a serious operation Monday afternoon. She is resting comfortable at this time. Mrs. Bedford is a daughter of Mrs. M. R. Collier, of Millersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Freeman, of Campbellsville, were in town a short time Monday morning. They were married at Campbellsville Sunday and were enroute to Cincinnati on a short bridal tour. It will be remembered that Mr. Freeman was employed for a short time last winter by Mr. T. T. Bentley as barber.

The following are attending the District Sunday School and C. W. B. M. Convention of the Christian church now in session at Carlisle: Elder and Mrs. F. W. Troy, Mrs. R. L. Wilson and daughter, Miss Aleta, Mrs. C. D. Tackett, little Miss Katherine Taylor, Dr. H. C. Burroughs and Mrs. O. M. Johnson. Little Katherine Taylor sang a solo and Aleta Wilson recited.

Lafayette Perishes in Fire.

The great Lafayette, magician, who, it will be remembered, was an attraction at the Paris Grand in this city several years ago, lost his life in a fire which destroyed the Empire Palace Theatre in Edinburgh Sunday afternoon. There was a remarkable display of public interest and the funeral procession passed through three miles of crowded streets of that city. Lafayette's enormous automobile, in which rode one of his favorite dogs, followed the hearse.

He declared that cases already decided by the court had determined for all time the words "undue" or "unreasonable" or similar words as applied to violations were not found in the statute and that the court in so declaring was legislating and not interpreting the law.

In Bad Fix

"I had a mishap at the age of 41, which left me in bad fix," writes Mrs. Georgia Usher, of Conyers, Ga.

"I was unconscious for three days, and after that I would have fainting spells, dizziness, nervousness, sick headache, heart palpitation and many strange feelings.

"I suffered greatly with ailments due to the change of life and had 3 doctors, but they did no good, so I concluded to try Cardui.

"Since taking Cardui, I am so much better and can do all my housework."

Better take Cardui while there is time, while you are still in moderately good health, just to conserve your strength and keep you in tip top condition.
